Qualifying for this program does NOT make you subject to "Estate Recovery".

What is Estate Recovery?

There is a lot of misinformation about "Estate Recovery". Estate Recovery is a process required by federal law for each state to seek reimbursement from the estates of Medicaid recipients, who are over age 55, only after they have passed away. However, there are several instances where this will not apply. For Example:

Medicare Beneficiaries enrolled in the Medicare Savings Program, are EXCLUDED from this requirement.

As long as you are not also re-enrolled in MaineCare, you will not be subject to estate recovery.
